How Northstar Cloud Systems Collects, Uses, and Protects Personal Information

Northstar Cloud Systems, Inc. | Effective Date: January 1, 2026

Northstar Cloud Systems, Inc. (“Northstar,” “we,” “us,” or “our”) provides cloud software and related services (the “Service”). This Privacy Policy explains what personal information we collect, how we use it, when we share it, how long we retain it, and the choices available to individuals. This Policy should be read together with our Terms of Service, which governs use of the Service generally.

1. Information We Collect

Account and contact information

Name, business email address, company, job title, account credentials, billing contact details, and information provided when communicating with support.

Service and usage information

Log data, feature usage, IP address, browser and device information, timestamps, diagnostic information, and security events associated with use of the Service.

Customer-submitted content

Information that customers choose to upload or enter into the Service. Customers remain responsible for determining whether their content may be submitted, consistent with the Terms of Service.

Payment information

Payment and billing details processed through our payment providers. We generally do not store full payment card numbers on our own systems.

2. How We Use Information

We use personal information to provide, operate, maintain, and support the Service; to authenticate accounts and protect the Service against fraud, abuse, unauthorized access, and security incidents; to communicate with customers about Service operation, support requests, security matters, and material changes; to analyze and improve Service reliability, performance, and user experience using information permitted for those purposes; and to comply with applicable law, enforce our agreements, and establish or defend legal claims.

3. How We Share Information

We share personal information with: service providers that process information on our behalf for hosting, security, analytics, customer support, or communications; professional advisers such as auditors, insurers, and lawyers when reasonably necessary; affiliates involved in providing or supporting the Service; government authorities or other parties when disclosure is required by law or reasonably necessary to protect rights, safety, or the security of the Service; and business transaction parties in connection with a merger, acquisition, financing, reorganization, or sale of assets, subject to applicable confidentiality and privacy requirements.

4. Data Retention

We retain personal information only for as long as reasonably necessary for the purposes described in this Policy. Retention periods vary by category of information, as summarized below:

Category	Retention Period
Account and contact information	For the duration of the account, plus 90 days after account closure to permit reactivation and re
Service and usage logs	180 days from the date the log entry is generated, after which logs are automatically deleted o
Customer-submitted content	Retained until deleted by Customer or for 30 days following account termination, whichever is
Payment and billing records	7 years from the date of the transaction, to satisfy tax, accounting, and financial-reporting oblig
Support communications	3 years from the date the support ticket is closed.

When information is no longer required under the schedule above, we delete it or de-identify it where reasonably practicable, subject to legally required retention, litigation holds, and routine backup processes described above.

5. Security

We maintain reasonable administrative, technical, and physical safeguards designed to protect personal information, including encryption of data in transit, access controls based on the principle of least privilege, and regular review of our security practices. No security measure can guarantee absolute security, and individuals should use strong, unique credentials and promptly notify us of any suspected unauthorized access to their accounts.

6. Cookies and Similar Technologies

We use cookies and similar technologies for essential functionality, authentication, security, preferences, and service analytics where applicable. Individuals can manage non-essential cookies through the cookie preference center available in the Service footer, or through their browser settings; disabling essential cookies may affect the ability to use certain features of the Service.

7. International Transfers

Northstar and its service providers may process personal information in countries other than the country where an individual resides, including the United States. Where such transfers involve personal information originating in the European Economic Area, the United Kingdom, or Switzerland, we rely on appropriate safeguards, including the European Commission's Standard Contractual Clauses or an applicable adequacy decision, to legitimize the transfer.

8. Privacy Rights and Choices

Depending on applicable law, individuals may have rights to access, correct, delete, restrict, object to, or obtain a copy of certain personal information we hold about them. Requests may be submitted to privacy@northstarcloud.example and may be subject to identity verification and legal limitations. We aim to respond to verified requests within the time period required by applicable law.

9. Children's Privacy

The Service is intended for business use and is not directed to individuals under the age of 18. We do not knowingly collect personal information from children, and we will delete any such information if we become aware that it has been collected in error.

10. Changes to This Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. For material changes, we will provide reasonable notice through the Service, by email, or through another appropriate channel. The updated policy will identify its effective date, and continued use of the Service after that date may constitute acceptance of the updated policy where legally permitted.

11. Contact Us

Privacy questions and rights requests may be submitted to privacy@northstarcloud.example. General support requests may be submitted through the customer support channel described in the applicable Service documentation.

12. Our Role as Processor and Controller

With respect to Customer Content that Customer submits to the Service, Northstar generally acts as a service provider or processor acting on Customer's instructions, and Customer (or the entity on whose behalf Customer uses the Service) generally acts as the controller or business responsible for that information. With respect to account, billing, and usage information that Northstar collects directly to operate and secure the Service, Northstar acts as a controller or business in its own right, as described in this Policy.

13. U.S. State Privacy Rights

Residents of California, Colorado, Connecticut, Virginia, and other states with comprehensive privacy laws may have additional rights with respect to their personal information, which may include the right to know the categories of personal information collected and disclosed, the right to opt out of certain processing (such as targeted advertising, where applicable), the right to appeal a decision on a rights request, and the right not to receive discriminatory treatment for exercising these rights. We do not sell personal information, as that term is defined under applicable state law. Requests to exercise these rights may be submitted to privacy@northstarcloud.example.

14. Automated Decision-Making

We do not use personal information to make decisions that produce legal effects or similarly significant effects concerning individuals through solely automated means. Where any automated processing is used to support internal security or fraud-detection functions, a human reviews flagged outcomes before any account-level action is taken.

15. Third-Party Links and Integrations

The Service may contain links to third-party websites or allow integration with third-party applications that Customer chooses to connect. This Policy does not apply to those third-party websites or applications, and we encourage individuals to review the privacy practices of any third party before sharing information with it.

16. Data Protection Contact

For individuals located in the European Economic Area or the United Kingdom, questions regarding this Policy or the exercise of applicable data protection rights may be directed to dataprotection@northstarcloud.example, which is monitored by our data protection point of contact.

17. Data Minimization and Accuracy

We collect only the personal information reasonably necessary for the purposes described in this Policy and periodically review our collection practices to identify and remove fields that are no longer necessary. Account administrators are responsible for keeping account and contact information accurate and current; individuals may update most account information directly within the Service.

18. Marketing Communications

We may send account-related and administrative communications to Customer's authorized users as necessary to operate the Service; these are not marketing communications and cannot be opted out of while the account remains active. Where we send optional product-update or marketing communications, recipients may opt out at any time using the unsubscribe mechanism included in the communication, without affecting receipt of administrative communications.

19. Security Incident Notification

If we become aware of a security incident that compromises personal information in a manner requiring notification under applicable law, we will notify affected individuals and, where required, applicable regulators, without undue delay and in accordance with the timelines required by applicable data breach notification law. For information processed on behalf of a Customer as described in Section 12, we will additionally notify the affected Customer in accordance with the timelines specified in the applicable Data Processing Addendum or, absent such an addendum, within a commercially reasonable time.

20. Vendor and Service Provider Oversight

Before engaging a service provider that will process personal information on our behalf, we assess the provider's security and privacy practices and enter into a written agreement imposing confidentiality, security, and use-limitation obligations consistent with this Policy. We periodically review our service provider relationships as part of our vendor risk management program.
