

Privacy Policy

Northstar Cloud Systems, Inc. | Effective January 1, 2026

Effective date

January 1, 2026

1. Overview

Northstar Cloud Systems, Inc. ("Northstar," "we," "us," or "our") provides cloud software and related services. This Privacy Policy explains what personal information we collect, how we use it, when we share it, how long we retain it, and choices available to individuals.

2. Information we collect

Account and contact information

Name, business email address, company, job title, account credentials, billing contact details, and information provided when communicating with support.

Service and usage information

Log data, feature usage, IP address, browser and device information, timestamps, diagnostic information, and security events associated with use of the service.

Customer-submitted content

Information that customers choose to upload or enter into the service. Customers remain responsible for determining whether their content may be submitted.

Payment information

Payment and billing details processed through our payment providers. We generally do not store full payment card numbers on our own systems.

3. How we use information

To provide, operate, maintain, and support the service.

To authenticate accounts and protect the service against fraud, abuse, unauthorized access, and security incidents.

To communicate with customers about service operation, support requests, security matters, and material changes.

To analyze and improve service reliability, performance, and user experience using information permitted for those purposes.

To comply with applicable law, enforce agreements, and establish or defend legal claims.

4. How we share information

Service providers that process information on our behalf for hosting, security, analytics, customer support, communications, or other operational services.

Professional advisers such as auditors, insurers, lawyers, and financial advisers when reasonably necessary.

Affiliates involved in providing or supporting the service.

Government authorities or other parties when disclosure is required by law or reasonably necessary to protect rights, safety, or the security of the service.

Business transaction parties in connection with a merger, acquisition, financing, reorganization, or sale of assets, subject to applicable confidentiality and privacy requirements.

5. Customer content and confidentiality

Customers retain ownership of content they submit to Northstar. We process customer-submitted content to provide, secure, maintain, and support the service, and for other purposes expressly described in the applicable service agreement or ToS. Nothing in this Privacy Policy grants Northstar ownership of customer content. Confidential business information is handled according to applicable contractual confidentiality obligations.

6. Retention

We retain personal information for as long as reasonably necessary to provide the service, satisfy the purposes described in this policy, comply with legal and accounting obligations, resolve disputes, enforce agreements, and maintain security. When information is no longer required, we delete it or de-identify it where reasonably practicable, subject to legally required retention and routine backup processes.

7. Security

We maintain reasonable administrative, technical, and physical safeguards designed to protect personal information. No security measure can guarantee absolute security, and individuals should use strong credentials and notify us of suspected unauthorized access.

8. Cookies and similar technologies

We use cookies and similar technologies for essential functionality, authentication, security, preferences, and service analytics where applicable. Browser settings and available consent or privacy controls may allow individuals to manage certain technologies.

9. International transfers

Northstar and its service providers may process information in countries other than the country where an individual resides. Where required by applicable law, we use appropriate safeguards for international transfers.

10. Privacy rights and choices

Depending on applicable law, individuals may have rights to access, correct, delete, restrict, object to, or obtain a copy of certain personal information. Requests may be subject to identity verification and legal limitations.

11. Contact us

Privacy questions and rights requests may be submitted to privacy@northstarcloud.example. General support requests may be submitted through the customer support channel described in the applicable service documentation.

12. Changes to this policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. For material changes, we will provide reasonable notice through the service, email, or another appropriate channel. The updated policy will identify its effective date.
